

KERO

[ In Quechua: A kind of ritual vessel to send the message to the god ]

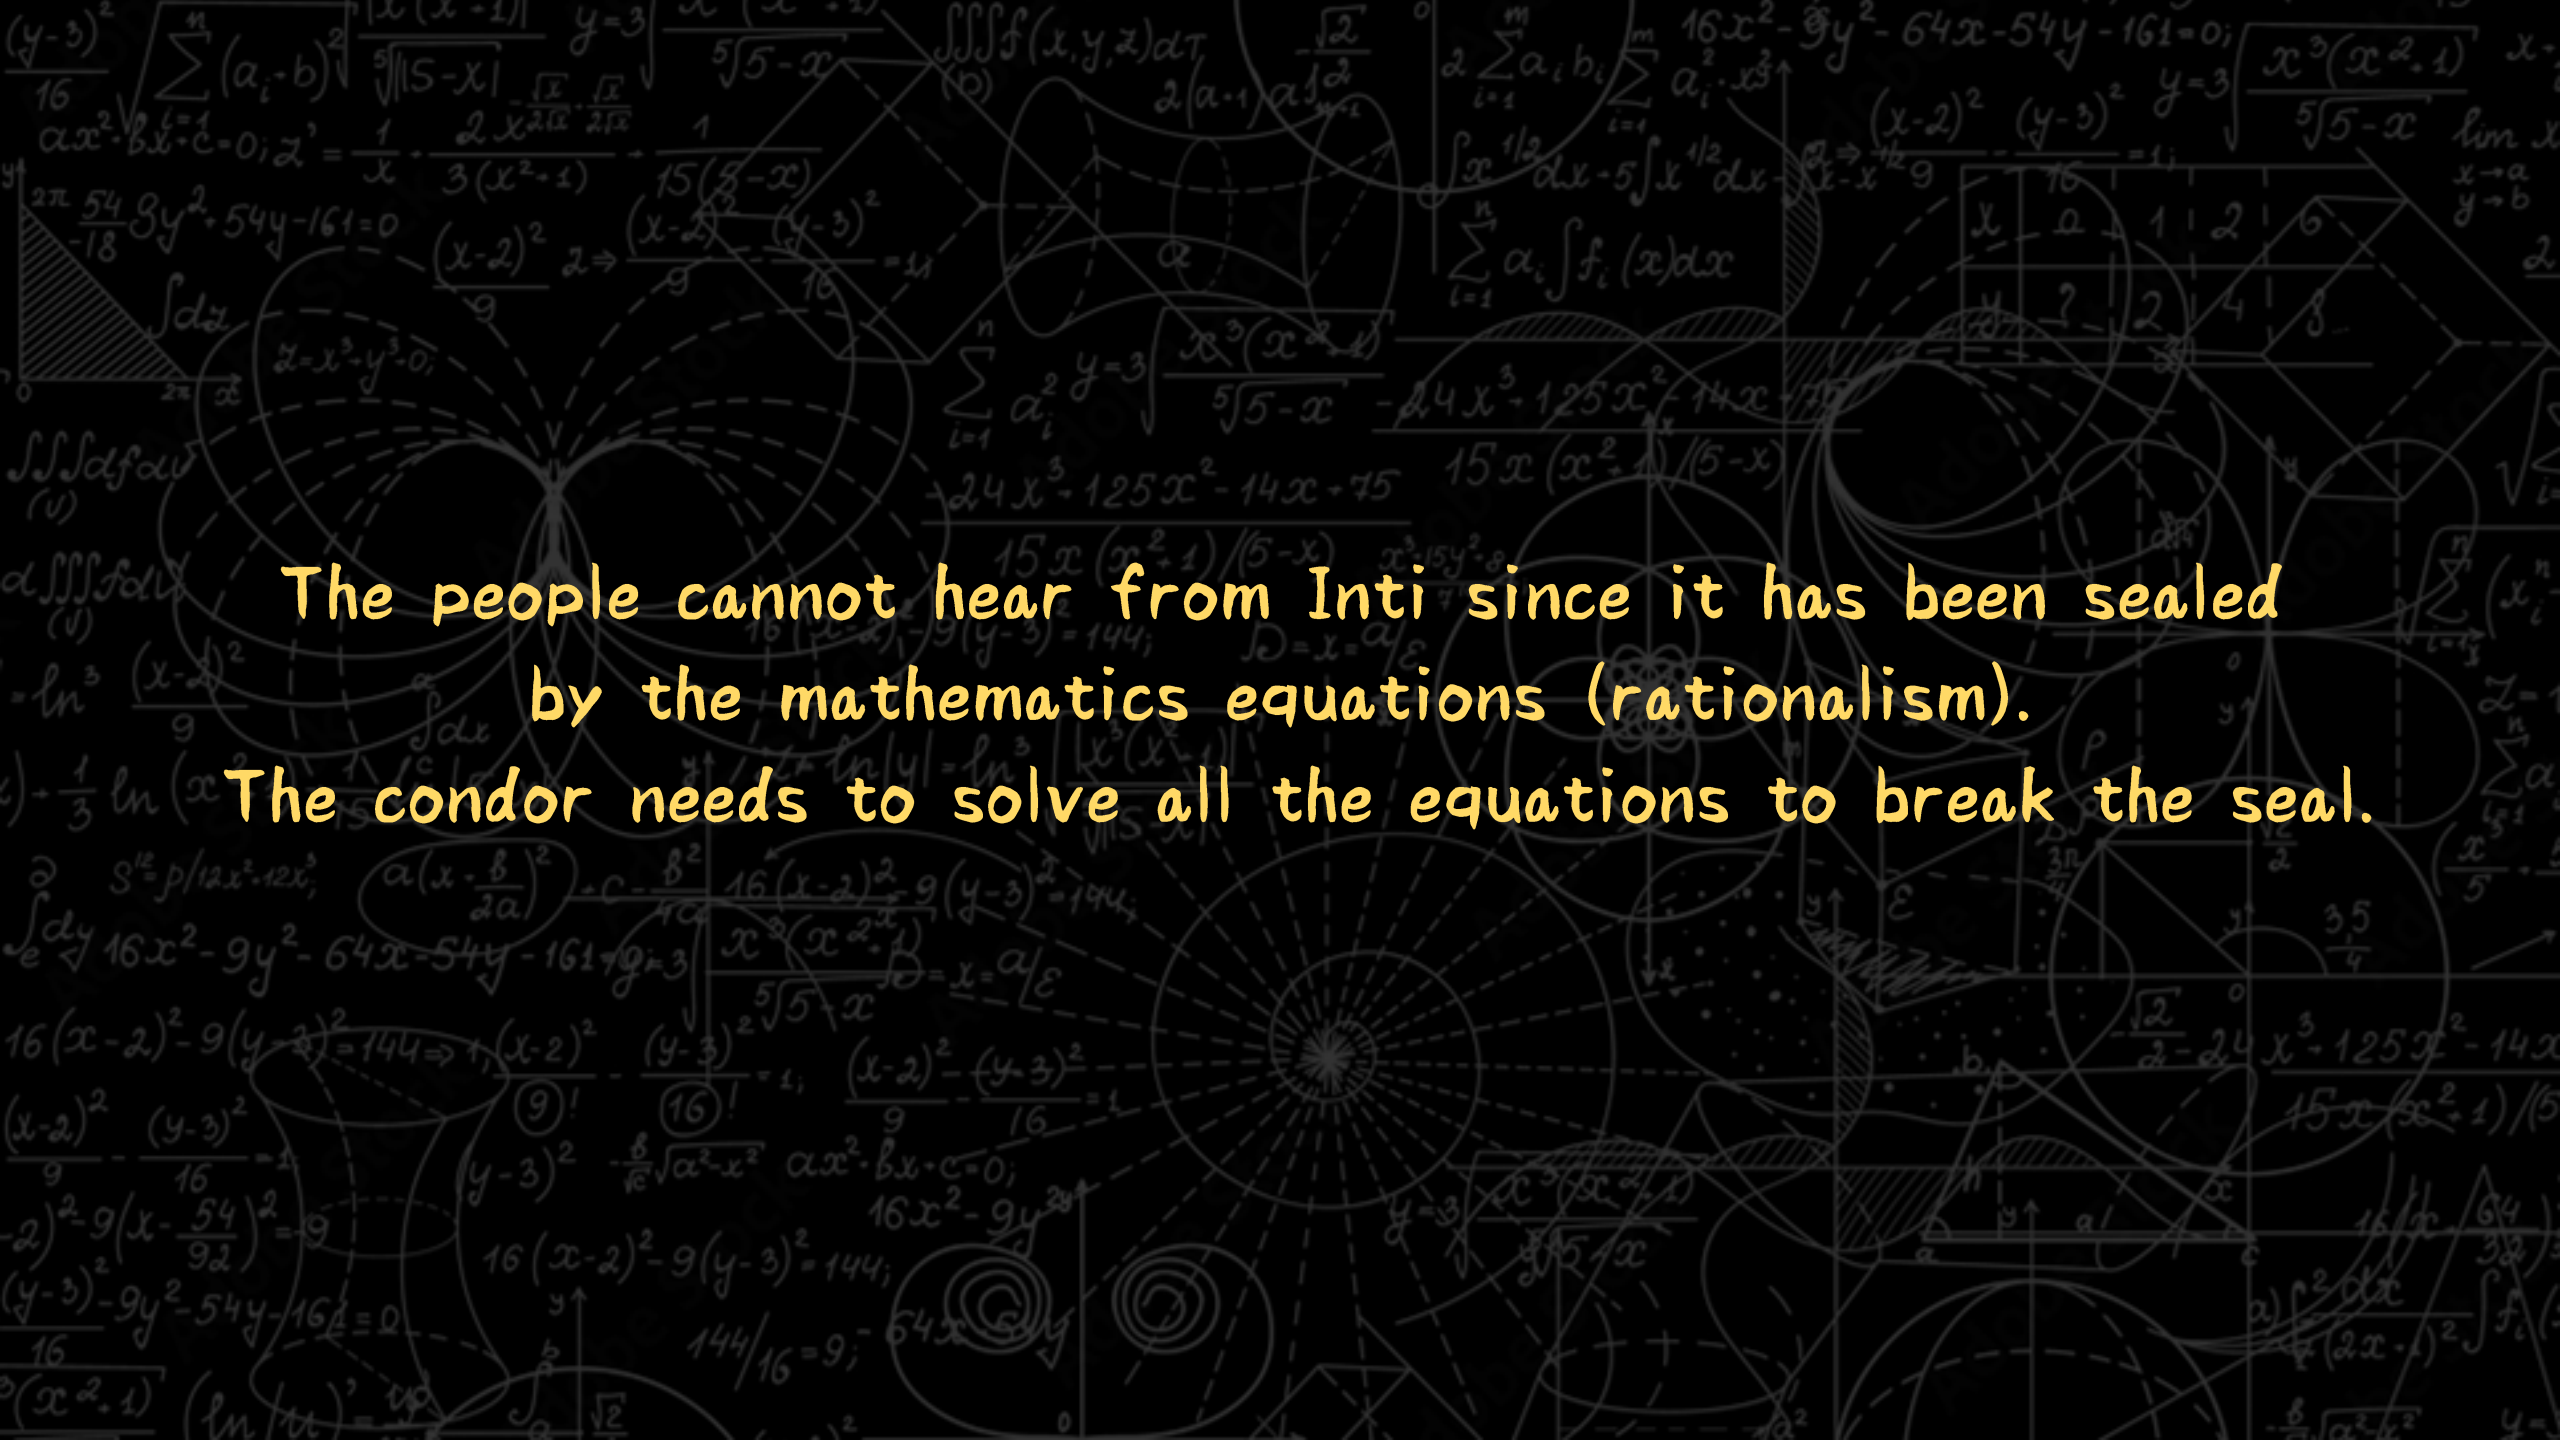

In the Inca myth, condor is a sacred animal in the sky world that delivers blessings from Inti, the supreme god of sun, and prayers of the Inca people on the Earth

However, the Inca religion has been wiped out by the arrival of an overseas civilization.
The sun is no longer shining for its land and descendants

A sacred condor tries to get the blessing of Inti back to the Inca people (to save the Inca culture)
but the way to Inti is blocked by the attacks of canons (modernity)

The people cannot hear from Inti since it has been sealed by the mathematics equations (rationalism).

The condor needs to solve all the equations to break the seal.
